The DIMMER VIEW

A Light on Welfare Abuses

It took a lot of courage for the handful of San Diego County welfare employees to tell publicly what is wrong with our welfare system.

They did a sort of "Face the Nation" Thursday at Town and Country hotel for members of the news media in a meeting arranged by Supervisor Henry Boney.

They attended the get-together on their own time and they had Boney's faint assurance that their superiors ought not to take sanctions against them. They limited most of their criticism to silly welfare rules and liberal interpretations but there was plenty of indication that they were pretty well fed up with the whole welfare giveaway. They gave examples which they said were not exceptions.

The keynote was set by Mrs. Mendi Wright, an attractive welfare eligibility supervisor in the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Department, who said common sense revision of welfare rules would close loopholes by which funds were being given to undeserving people. She said many people with full time jobs, and others with incomes of $600-700 monthly are now able to qualify for welfare grants.

Mrs. Wright said she decided to bring together some of the welfare employees who had the same reaction as she about welfare abuses because she, as a public servant with a responsibility to the needy, also had a responsibility to the taxpayer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, also in the family service section as a supervisor, said that the underlying philosophy of social services — the art of helping people to help themselves — has long been lost in today's welfare programs.

She said welfare rules provide for a mother to be able to maintain a home for her child until the child is 21. The child could even be out of state and with sufficient funds to care for himself but welfare rules provide funds to the mother to maintain that home should the child return.

She also noted instances of two recipients who sold real property — each got about $5,000. One qualified for aid a month later after she went on a big spending spree. She said these cases were not exceptions.

Mrs. Diane Oldfield, an old age assistance eligibility worker said her department has not been able to get the district attorney's office to prosecute children for failing to support their parents on welfare. They don't pay because they know welfare can't do anything about it, she said.

Where a man has enough income to prevent him from drawing old age assistance, welfare rules permit part of his income to be allocated to his non-working wife. This permits the man to qualify and by that liberal interpretation welfare funds are being granted to ineligible persons.

She also told of newly arriving aliens who are on the welfare rolls although the immigration department has laws to avert this. They require aliens to have sponsors who will guarantee that the alien will not become a public charge for five years — the time required for becoming a citizen. This law is not enforced by immigration and welfare pays the bill.

Mrs. Mary Roach, supervisor of eligibility in adult programs, reported on the traveling recipient. Often welfare clients go across country and send word that they are not well enough to return to San Diego. They request that their welfare checks be forwarded. After several months it is suggested that the recipient take up residence in the state they are visiting but they reject the idea. "We get more welfare in California," they usually reply.

Sometimes children pay their welfare parents' fare to Europe. The parents send a medical report that they are not able to make the trip back. "We send their welfare checks regularly — often for six or eight months," Mrs. Roach said.

The elderly non-traveler gets some help too. In special cases he can have a car; get his repair bills paid as many times as necessary; he can have household repairs and get a housekeeper whose wages are paid by the welfare department.

There is the matter of sick room supplies which are provided through welfare, she said. Taxpayers provide wheel chairs, oxygen tanks, walkers and the like. When the client dies these items are not returned to welfare. They are usually sold by the family and the proceeds kept.

Miss Eleanor Kazmier, a caseworker who handles unemployed mothers and fathers and unwed mothers was critical of the lack of birth control counseling. She said some mothers-to-be start calling for an increased allocation soon after conception.

"They call every nine month and ask when they can get the extra $21. We pay them while they are carrying the baby. It's a racket with some mothers who already have four or five babies and more as a source of income. We suggest birth control, pills and other options but they say nothing doing. They're just interested in money. Nothing else," she said.

Miss Kazmier, a former Navy chief, said many seamen once kept producing babies as a means of getting a larger income. "They were too lazy to earn a promotion but not too lazy to keep having babies," The Navy stepped in and drew the line and said, 'no more increases in allotment after the third,' so the family sizes started dropping," she said.

Ed Stasney, eligibility supervisor for aid to families, discussed the "30 and 1/3" welfare policy (this column June 10) in which recipients working full time may get full cash grants plus $50 a month for auto; $25 a month for auto repairs; $25 a month just for working, and 4 cents a mile for use of the car, plus $50 a week for each child without limitation. He can also get money to pay a housekeeper, pay for her food, and if she lives in, payment in lieu of rent. The first $30 and one third of the balance of his wages does not count as income when computing welfare eligibility, Stasney explained.

In the case of a working man marrying a welfare recipient with children, the husband is only responsible for the wife. The children may remain as welfare charges. For unwed fathers, his responsibility is a fixed $127 a month for the child. Nothing for the mother.

Gordon Bullock, as caseworker with unemployed fathers, told how out-of-state families in an old station wagon full of pathetic children, who "seem to run out of gas in front of our office. They immediately qualify for a $50 grant. They can move on to another California county and be eligible for $50 the next day. I usually send them to the Rescue Mission for overnight. More often than not they never get there," he said. "At least they are not there the next morning when we check on them."

Some of the recommendation at the meeting was for residency requirements and for more specific rules in the welfare manual.

Clayton Brace, top executive of KOGO television said at the meeting that the revelations and suggestions were "a

PICKETS — Students formed a picket line in front of the Naughty Spot on Broadway Friday night. The youngsters were brought to the spot by Skyline youth pastor Dale Bailey, who said the purpose of the demonstration was to let the youngsters' opinions be known and to "protest moral decay in our society."

"The kids thought it up themselves. They said seeing the signs on the building advertising nude dancing was being featured inside did not offer anything to improve the morality of the community."

That was what the Rev. Orville Butcher, pastor of the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church said after 35 or more teen-aged youngsters picketed the Naughty Spot, a beer saloon at 7268 Broadway in Lemon Grove. The saloon sells beer and features nude girls dancing on a stage.

The youngsters, all members of the church, picketed the place Friday night for more than two hours. They had church counselors with them and they had Pastor Dale Bailey, the church's high school pastor.

The youngsters marched in an orderly circle with placards telling why they were there. Signs read "Would you want your daughter in here?" "Tsk! Tsk! Tsk!" "Sex is not love" and others.

Pastor Bailey said the youngsters had learned about the nude dancers from sheriff's reports and from newspaper articles. They then applied to the Youth Board for permission to picket.

"It was their idea," Pastor Bailey said. "It was the voice of young people with integrity — young people with a purpose," he said. "I approved the Board's action and accompanied the youngsters. Some of the patrons took it in good spirits. Several even promised to come to our "show" at church Sunday morning.

The youngsters are students at Mt. Miguel, Helix and Grossmont High schools, Rev. Butcher said. "I think it proves something. With so much emphasis on youthful rebellion and charges that youngsters are ruining society, it is refreshing that the reaction of these youngsters is just the way many kids are feeling."

He said the church's youngsters would be back Friday and Saturday nights this week. This time they propose to also be armed with cameras. Some placards will read "Smile, your picture is being taken! Watch for it in the local newspaper".

"I'm more proud of these kids because I really had nothing to do with the idea," Rev. Butcher said. "But the idea is a good one."

The pickets will be on the job at 7 p.m. both nights, Rev. Bailey said. Last week there was a squad of sheriff's deputies on hand. Presumably they will be there again Friday and Saturday.

Hearing Set Tuesday Night

Pacific Bay Development Corporation officials announced this week that a hearing will be held in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium June 29 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss rezoning action on the Imperial 80 development.

Owners of the property, located within the San Diego City limits but in the Lemon Grove School District, will give a short presentation of their planned residential development, after which the meeting will be open to questions and comments from those in attendance.

The public has been invited to the hearing.

DEMONSTRATION — High school youngsters from the Skyline Wesleyan Church were in Lemon Grove Friday night to demonstrate against nude shows at the Naughty Spot on Broadway. About 30 teenagers marched in a picket line.

High School Drug Policy Committee Gives Report

The augmented drug policy review committee of the Grossmont High School District culminated its work Monday night when the group presented its report to the Board of Trustees at the regular board meeting.

The board accepted the report, made comments, asked questions, and assigned a task committee to re-hash recommendations, list priorities and costs, and present recommendations to the board in August to amend the district's drug policies.

The district policy on drugs currently requires expulsion of students involved with drug use or possession, but affords those expelled an opportunity to undergo a program of rehabilitation and be re-admitted. The present policy also considers the cases of on-campus and off-campus violators for expulsion.

The main thrust of the committee's report at the meeting was the recommendation that off-campus violators no longer be considered within the provisions of the drug policy, and that the on-campus violation be re-defined as 'within the territorial limits of the school campus, during normal school hours, or during any scheduled school activity with apprehension by school staff.

The second major change is in establishing a local school assessment/referral committee which would determine nature and extent of the student's involvement and be empowered to select from 17 probationary/adjustment period alternatives. This allows for more discretion by the local high school as to the disposition of cases.

Among other recommendations by the committee were that vocational classes be given a higher priority in the district as a preventative alternative to drugs. The recommendation was based on the premise that students become bored with classes they feel do not help them toward their vocation goal, and that boredom contributes to the drug problem.

Additional high-interest classes were also urged in the report, based on the same premise. The report contained such examples as classes in organic foods, guitar, social problems, ecology, political action and teens, philosophies, American-Indian culture, and "do-it-yourself" classes.

Dr. Nicholas S. Malleck, who headed the committee, said "It is interesting to note that the one main theme running through the minds of

Disturbance Sends Man To Hospital

A disturbance in Lemon Grove last week sent David M. Collard, 21, of 2305 Loma dr., Lemon Grove, to Grossmont Hospital, after he was hit by a 22-year old male of Mexican descent.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, deputies arrived on the scene at about 2 a.m. Thursday morning, shortly after the incident had taken place.

Witnesses at the scene told deputies that Collard was having trouble with his motorcycle at the intersection of Broadway and Imperial, when one person in a group of about 15 standing in the parking lot of a nearby bar yelled out, "That guy isn't going to make it."

Planning Group Meets Today

Another in the series of Lemon Grove Planning Associations will be held today at 3 p.m. Jim Dorman, chairman said.

It is the regular meeting of the Executive Committee and will be at the auditorium of the Golden Avenue school, on School lane.

The meeting is open to interested persons.

'Urgency' Rezoning May Double Grove Lot Size Requirements

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A hearing for the urgency rezoning of large portions of Lemon Grove was authorized on Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The interim zone would down grade the possible population density from R-2 and R-2-A to R-1-A, making the minimum lot size per dwelling 6,000 square feet instead of the 3,000 square feet of the R-2-A.

Building would also be restricted to single family residences rather than duplexes.

Planning Director Dan Cherrier told the board that while much of the residential land in Lemon Grove is R-2 or R-2-A it has developed almost exclusively in single family fashion.

He said the interim zone he proposes would stop duplex developments or planned residential developments (PRD) at least until the completion of the Lemon Grove citizens' planning effort.

The situation was brought to the board by a number of citizens aroused over plans for a duplex complex at the south end of New Jersey on 3.2 acres of land by Starfire Homes, Inc.

Cherrier's proposal is much more far reaching as it would include the entire planning area for Lemon Grove.

The board can impose interim zoning without a hearing, but then must hold a hearing within 90 days. In this case, the hearing would come first and the interim zone would last for a year and could be extended for a year.

Interim loning bypasses the County Planning Commission, but the date for the hearing has not yet been set.

Cherrier said the move would be drastic, but one that is necessary for the preservation of land use patterns during the citizens' planning process.

He said the board might want to apply the same technique to other areas which are undergoing the planning programs.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Is there any difference between "casa" and "casita?" Some of my Spanish speaking friends tell me that both words mean "house." Also I have seen "rancho" and "ranchito" being used to mean "ranch." Would you comment on these words and their meanings.

"Casita" is a diminutive of "casa." A diminutive is a word formed from another word to express smallness or endearment. "Casa" means "house." "Casita" means "little house." Normally diminutives are formed in Spanish by replacing the last letter of a word with "ita" or "ito." In the case of "casita," we have removed the last letter (a) from "casa" and added "ita" to complete the diminutive form.

"Ranchito" means "little ranch." It is a diminutive form of "rancho" which means "ranch." The same method is applied to form this diminutive. The letter "o" is removed from "rancho" leaving "ranch." To this we apply "ito" in order to complete the word "ranchito."

"Cama (bed) may be changed to "camita" (little bed). "Silla" (chair) is modified to "sillita" (little chair). "Mesa" (table) changes to "Mesita" (little table) and "caja" (box) becomes "cajita" (little box). Notice that all words that end in the letter "a" terminate in "ita" in the diminutive.

"Libro" (book) changes to "librito" (little book). "Gato" (cat) is converted to "gatito" (little cat). "Toro" (bull) becomes "torito" (little bull) and "hermano" (brother) is changed to "hermanito" (little brother). Words that end in "o" (as shown in this examples) will terminate in "ito" to form the diminutive.

Practice phrases listed below demonstrate the use of words ending in "ito" and "ita." You may wish to learn them with the aid of the recorded voice that says them for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

Letter Protests Tax Rate Hikes For County Budget

Dear Editor:

Like many homeowners, I am very concerned over the spiraling tax rates and the blanket and paper shuffling type of increases in property tax assessments that are imposed on us with limited services to many of us for our tax dollars.

In 1969 the county tax rate was $2.35 per $100 assessed valuation. In 1970 it spiraled to $2.745, which was an increase of 39 cents. The current proposed budget skyrocketed the tax rate another 80 cents increase. This was proposed in spite of the fact that many newly developed subdivisions are adding tax funds to the county coffer. Many of these subdivision contractors have been permitted to butcher the hillsides with no regard to ecology or the established properties.

Economy in public government is a must as many homeowners are struggling to make payments to have a home and then the tax rate spirals due to the extravaganza whims of those in charge. This is alternated with the increasing assessments which is often based on the property sales in the neighborhood and not on the actual cost or workmanship of the structure we own.

Like many homeowners, I do not begrudge the civil service employees a fair salary scale but do feel that efficiency and economy should be necessary requirements in all departments. Some of the unclassified and created positions with five digit salaries need to be re-evaluated in light of necessity and bureaucracy.

San Diego County has sufficient technical know-how so the elective or appointed officers need not roam to Washington or elsewhere on any affronted issue at taxpayers' expense. These padded expense accounts can be and should be eliminated. This can also be applied to the many needless surveys conducted.

I am in sympathy with the many cultural and charitable organizations but definitely feel that the generous contributions from the county coffer is not in keeping with the many taxpayers' wishes for county services.

Current welfare program is long overdue for a real housecleaning in procedures. We do not object to helping those in real need as the elederly, the invalids, the sick, and the orphans. Like many, I resent having our tax funds doled out to healthy physically capable adults, who are public freeloaders and parasitic in attitude.

Welfare administration needs to be held to a more astringent accountability for its entrusted funds. It is time for all to request the reinstatement of the one-year residential requirement for welfare recipients as California has become a haven for welfare seekers. The unemployed individuals could replace the green card holders who live across the boarder and take jobs away from the local citizens or residents.

The time has come to re-evaluate the governmental revenue resources. There are many retirement homes, which are business enterprises of the various churches, that are tax exempt. People who live in the many apartment houses and trailer courts do not pay direct tax to county or schools. To equalize the tax load fairly, property tax should be eliminated entirely and a withholding income tax be established, thereby everyone is assessed according to his gross earnings.

Dear Editor:

The results of an extensive survey made in 1968 by the U. S. Office of Education after questioning over 600,000 children in 4,000 schools, grades 1-12, disclosed that "the physical and economic resources going into a school have very little relation to the achievements coming out of it," and that a high teacher-to-pupil level means very little. In short smaller classes and more money do not obtain a better educational process.

That no man can grow taller by any effort of his own is a well known fact. A little known fact is that no amount of education can enable a student to exceed the limits of his intellectual potential.

Thoughts like these make me wonder why the teachers and school administrators want smaller classes and more money per student. The question is: What will smaller classes and more money obtain for the community? That is, except higher taxes. The quality of the educational process is by no means going up.

"In an average year we hire about 30,000 people to take care of resignations, retirements and normal turnover. By far, the largest share of these are the products of our public high schools."

"To employ the 30,000 people we require in an average year, we talk with some 300,000 applicants — a ratio of ten interviews to each hire."

"But four of every ten people we see — some 120,000 individuals in an average year — will not meet even our modest basic requirements."

"For the most part, these will be individuals who have not mastered the most fundamental skills sufficiently to be able to demonstrate an ability to learn the rudiments of even a relatively simple work assignment." . . .

This, fellow taxpayers, is a 40% reject rate of our expensive educational process product.

Sincerely,
Charles O. Barnett

Dear Editor:

In defense of Norman Casserley, Midwife:

How unfortunate that an injunction is being filed against such a just man! Is it that these doctors filing suit are losing some business? Are they so blind that they can't see the parents want this kind of childbirth?

It's not as if Mr. Casserley were an unlearned man. He's worked with such greats as Dr. Fernand Lamaze of France, a pioneer in humanized, dignified, painless childbirth. As humble a man as Mr. Casserley is, however, you would never find this out until half a dozen meetings with him.

If I become pregnant again, I'd choose him to be present over any obstetrician. I doubt that any obstetrician has more communication with his parents.

The Lord certainly guides this man's life; otherwise how would he have assisted at over 1,000 births and never had a mortality of mother or baby! Why would royalty consistently request his attendance at childbirth?

As to his $1,000 fee, I'm sure this is a gross generalization. He probably ends up receiving much less, as he's the type to never mention fees.

I, for one, shall pray that the court will see that justice is rendered toward this man, and that he will be allowed to continue with this blessed endeavor.

Yellow Pages
Whatever you're shopping for, the first place to start is the Yellow Pages of your phone book. You'll quickly find the most convenient store in your area selling the item you're looking for. You'll also find out which stores are authorized dealers for certain brands, which accept credit cards and what their business hours are. Calling the dealers to ask for specific information is often the next step, but sometimes you'll find out everything you want to know just by reading the Yellow Pages.

Even if you don't like to write letters, you can still keep up with friends and family—by telephone. And it's not that expensive either, especially if you take advantage of the low evening and weekend rates for long distance calls. And of course it's always cheaper to make a station call instead of a person call. Just check the front pages of your phone book to find the calling hours that are easiest on your pocketbook.

PTA HILITES

Mt. Vernon

Thirty two students have been enrolled in the 1971 Mt. Vernon Elementary School Backyard Swim Program. The annual affair is conducted in conjunction with the Mt. Vernon PTA and the American Red Cross.

Registration was limited this year due to a shortage of qualified instructors, according to Swim Chairman Mrs. Al Mitchell.

Backyard Swim is an activity designed to teach elementary school children basic fundamentals of water safety under the supervision of competent instructors. Since its beginning in 1956 the plan has been responsible for allowing over 85,000 students nationally to successfully complete the course without a fatality.

Pools are donated by local residents for the ten-day, two-week sessions which begin in July and all instructors must pass a rigid training course. Pools must meet safety standards established by the Red Cross.

Locally, almost 450 students have completed the program since its inception here in 1962. Last year 28 children received water safety certificates.

Luigi's, Martinizing Split Pair In Spring Valley Little League

Luigi's Restaurant missed a chance to reclaim first place in the Spring Valley Little League standings last week when the team split a two-game series with the first place S & H One Hour Martinizing squad.

In the first game, Russ Palser started on the mound for Luigi's, going six innings, giving up two runs on two hits, and striking out 16. Mike Delia handled the twirling chores for Martinizing, holding Luigi's to a pair of runs in six innings.

In the seventh inning, relievers came in for both sides. Vern Cramer came in for Martinizing, while Steve Haney took over for Luigi's.

With the score still knotted in the eight inning, Martinizing got to Haney for three runs on one hit and three errors to notch the win.

In the second game, however, Luigi's came back to get the win, 3-2, on Jeff Whitley's five-hitter. The action left Martinizing on top of the standings with a 12-3 record, while Luigi's stands a game back with an 11-4 record.

Al's Electric stole a piece of the limelight last week by winning a pair of games from Spring Valley Shopping Center, 6-1 and 7-4. The victories for Al's enabled the team to catch Luigi's in the standings with an 11-4 mark.

Another double winner last week was Arnold & Co., who blasted Kelton Homes, 9-3 and 18-2 to take over fourth place.

In the only other two games of the week, it was Spring Valley Kiwanis and Jackson Supply splitting, with Kiwanis grabbing the opener by a 2-1 count and Jackson bouncing back to take the second, 5-0.

In the intermediate league, it was North Island Test Line winning a pair of games to take over first place with a 4-1 mark. North Island cracked five hits enroute to its first victory, a 6-3 win over Mary Browne Realtor. In its second game, it was North Island 5 and Cecil's Hancock 3.

In other intermediate games, Cecil's beat Oscar's Drive In, 4-3, Art's Lumber outslugged Colorama TV, 13-4, Mary Browne ousted Colorama, 9-3, and Oscar's surprised Art's Lumber, 6-0.

In the minor league, Jim Niccoll's Racers continued in their role "destiny's darlings", taking a pair from the USS Prairie Pirates to stay tied with Moose Lodge for first place. Both teams have 4-0 marks.

Niccoll, winners of only one game during the first-half season, won its first game of the week over the Pirates, 5-3 when Bobby Crouse hit a bases-loaded single to bring in the winning runs.

In the second game, the racers had little trouble blasting the Pirates, taking a 15-2 decision.

Moose Lodge kept pace with a sweep over Tea Pot Inn, collecting 9-8 and 13-10 victories.

In other games, Colwell Insurance and Bob's Window Cleaners battled to a 12-12 draw before Bob's won the second game, 10-9. In the only other action, it was Spring Valley Post Office taking a 12-2 decision and Pat's Rentals winning the nightcap, 9-8.

In the rookie league, Stroh's Lomita Bowl upset Polar Frozen Foods, 8-5, to move into a tie for first place.

Both teams won their other games of the week, as Stroh's ousted SV Shopping Center, 23-9, and Polar took a 17-6 win from the same team.

In the only other game of the week, SV Boosters belted Foster Freeze, 27-7.

Padres To Tangle With Giants Monday

The Padres are coming on.

The Giants are coming back.

You should be coming out.

Pennant flavored baseball is coming up for San Diego fans next week as the Padres and the Giants tangle in a three-game series starting Monday at the Stadium.

The National League's western division leaders are here for night games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and then the Dodgers arrive for contests July 1, 2 and 3 to climax a hectic baseball week.

"There's always a special incentive when we play the Dodgers and the Giants," said manager Preston Gomez. "There is a natural rivalry among California teams and, this year, the added incentive of beating pennant contenders.

It's guaranteed now that there is going to be a wild scramble for the division flag. The Giants, off to a furious start, have slowed down enough for the other clubs, primarily the Dodgers, to catch up.

The Padres would delight in putting the brakes to both teams.

And the interest in the Giants series also transcends to several individual contests.

The matchup of shortstops Enzo Hernandez and Chris Speier, both players enjoying outstanding rookie seasons, is provoking.

The square-off between first baseman Nate Colbert and Willie McCovey should be crowd pleasing.

The relief work of San Diego's Bob Miller and San Francisco's Don McMahan could be a vital factor in the series.

Of course, the performance of Bob Barton, having a wonderful season himself, will not go unnoticed by his former teammates.

And, there's always Willie Mays.

It was Mays who sparked the Giants to an opening season win before 34,554 in San Diego Stadium on April 6. The Padres and Giants split the next two games here and now San Francisco arrives in full bloom.

The San Diego pitching and hitting has been better than the win-lose columns in decates. The fielding has been competent. And the Padres, improved in every department, were winners of eight of their first 14 games this month.

Tickets for all Giants games, as well as those against the Dodgers, are on sale now at the Padre ticket office located at the Stadium. They are also available at Ticketron locations throughout San Diego County. And telephone reservations may be made by calling the Padre ticket office at 283-4494.

SVWC Wins Three Games To Take Lead

Spring Valley Woman's Club belted three opponents last week to remain atop the standings in the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League.

SVWC brought its season record to 10-2 with a 20-7 conquest of Norm's Gulf, a 20-16 victory over Galbreath Realty, and a 13-11 squeaker over Johnson Excavating.

O'Dell Realty, meanwhile, won a pair of games to stay close in second place with a 9-3 record. O'Dell knocked off Galbreath, 15-11, and blasted Ham's Painting/Easter Plumbing, 33-13.

Elsewhere in the league, it was Optimist Club winning a pair of games to move into a tie with Norm's Gulf for third place. Optimist beat Foster/Thomas Disposal, 22-16, and did away with Galbreath Realty, 9-5. Norm's won its only other game of the week, a 37-13 shelling of Fosters/Thomas.

In the only other major division game of the week, it was Fosters/Thomas outlasting Johnson Excavating, 20-14.

In minor division action, Delp Plastering had little trouble winning a pair of contests to remain atop the standings, a game ahead of second place Broyles & Schafer/Sportland.

Delp did away with San Diego Linen, 29-3 and blasted San Diego Sandblasting, 16-9. Broyles/Sportland kept pace with wins over Coastal Rigging, 17-1, and Sandblasting, 10-30.

Two special games were played last week, pitting the men from SV Bobby Sox League and those from Jamacha Hills Bobby Sox League in one contest and the women from the two leagues in a second game.

In the first game, it was SVBSL 7 and JHBSL 6. In the women's contest, JHBSL came out on top by a 23-3 count.

Broderick Signs Gulls Contract

Goaltender Ken Broderick has signed a contract with the San Diego Gulls and will be reporting to the team's training camp in September, Gulls' General Manager-Coach Max McNab announced.

Broderick, 29, played for the Canadian National team and played professional hockey with the Minnesota North Stars organization.

He retired from professional hockey last season to work for the Canadian Government Recreation Department. Broderick will complete his Masters work in physical education this summer at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, Michigan.

The Gulls obtained his contract when he became a free agent. "Minnesota had too many goalies and they had to let Ken go," explained McNab. "We put him on our negotiation list and I have been talking to him since then.

"He was very determined about getting his education and now that he is almost through, he is looking forward to getting back into pro hockey," said McNab.

Chargers Set 'Open House' At Stadium

The public is invited to San Diego Stadium for the second annual Charger "Open House" Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 7 to 8 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 2 p.m.

"Open House" is designed to allow all San Diegans the opportunity to inspect San Diego Stadium without charge for admission or parking. Tours of the locker room, training room and press box, areas normally closed to the public, will be conducted.

All-pro guard Walt Sweeney, middle linebacker Bob Babich and strong safety Jim Tolbert will be among Charger players and staff members who will visit with the fans.

There will be two showings each day of the new Charger highlight film, S*M*A*S*H, in the Sports Club on the plaza level.

The ticket office will be open for persons interested in obtaining information or purchasing season tickets. Seats in the Stadium will be tagged for immediate purchase.

Walker Scott, Dodgers Tied For Lemon Grove Little League Lead

The torrid 1971 Lemon Grove Little League season is going right down to the wire with red hot battles for first and third places still to be decided.

The fight for top run honors continues with Walker Scott and the Dodgers once again tied with identical 15-3 won-loss records. Behind the leaders are Mission Storage and Murphy Plumbing, both sporting 10-8 marks, while Imperial Meats is alone at 7-11 and White Construction, Lemon Grove Lath and Plaster and Food Basket all with 5-13 readings are trying to avoid the cellar.

Walker Scott and the Dodgers were scheduled to meet in a showdown game yesterday and following that encounter both teams have two games remaining, Walker Scott with Mission and Murphy Plumbing and the Dodgers with White Construction and Mission.

Last week's results found Walker Scott winning a pair while the Dodgers took two of three. Walker Scott trimmed Food Basket 8-3 and Lemon Grove Plaster 5-3 and the Dodgers defeated Imperial Meats twice, 7-1 and 12-2, but lost to Murphy Plumbing 6-3.

Walker Scott's win over Food Basket found Mark Foster pitching a three-hitter and fanning 11 with Jeff Mitchell contributing a home run and Bobby Schneider adding two doubles and a single. Mitchell swatted two doubles in the triumph over Lemon Grove Plaster and Terry Bolin and Schneider also picked up two hits apiece. Losing hurler Rex Jenner struck out 11.

The Dodgers' pair over Imperial Meats saw Tom Bolin pounding six hits with Butch Cushman going three for four in the second tussle and Chris Flores unloading a drive over the left field fence. Flores was the week's strikeout king with 14 as he twirled a three hitter in the opener and Cushman went the distance for the first time this year in the nightcap, the latter a makeup of a postponed affair.

Murphy Plumbing stopped the Dodgers behind the combined hill efforts of Bruce Franks and Craig Leonetti with Leonetti increasing his league lead in the home run derby to eight with a circuit smash.

Murphy Plumbing also bounced back from the brink of defeat with five last inning runs to edge White Construction 8-6.

White gained some measure of revenge when righthander John Young struck out 11 to take a five-hit 3-2 verdict in a makeup of an earlier rained out game.

Mission Storage split two, shutting out White Construction 2-0 but dropping a 4-1 decision to Food Basket. David Terrel blanked White on two hits, walked only one and fanned nine. Ray Cox doubled to drive in one Mission tally.

In the final game, Imperial Meats outscored Lemon Grove Plaster 8-2 with Mark Williamson and Troy Keogh sharing mound duties for the victors. Six runs in the first two innings put it out of reach.

John Reid to Head Rockets P.R. Staff

SAN DIEGO — The San Diego Rockets named John Reid, 35, as Director of Public Relations.

Reid, who served as Sports Information Director at the University of Washington for the past seven years thus rejoins his basketball mentor of the past three years, Tex Winter.

In making the announcement Rockets General Manager Pete Newell said, "we are very fortunate to obtain a man with the background and knowledge that Reid brings to this position. He covered all 14 sports at theUniversity of Washington and has been recognized nationally for his achievements in the communications areas."

A graduate of the University of Washington's School of Journalism in 1961, Reid immediately stepped in as assistant Sports Information Director at the University.

He served in this capacity for two years until joining the Puyallup Valley Tribune in 1963 as sports editor and assistant advertising manager. A year later he was named to his current Sports Director post.

During his tenure as SID Reid captured two of the coveted CoSIDA awards, honors gained in a national competition for promotional and publicity achievements in college athletics. He placed second in 1967 and first in 1969, the only two years the competition was held.

Reid is currently in Seattle preparing for the NCAA Track Meet hosted by the University of Washington on June 17, 19, and 19. He will report to the Rockets on July 6.

Angellettes Lose Again, Fall To First Place Tie

More chimes of midnight were evident on the Cinderella Team of the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League, as the Lemon Grove Boosters Club Angellettes dropped their second game of the second-half season and fell into a three-way tie for first place.

The Angellettes, after finishing fifth in the first-half season, dropped a 9-7 decision to the Skyline TV Gremlins, the only team that has managed to whip the Angellettes in second-half play.

In the game, the Angellettes led going into the Gremlin half of the fifth inning. In the frame, Pam Jackson belted a double, Susan Freeman got aboard, and Terry Freeman belted a double to bring in the winning run. Kathy Vazzani's triple in the sixth inning added the insurance run.

The Angellettes stayed in the thick of the pennant chase, however, by dropping the Associated Engineers Swingers, 20-8 in the team's only other game of the week.

The Quota Club Migets won two games and the Gremlins won their other two contests to leave both clubs tied with the Angellettes with 5-2 records.

For the Gremlins, two doubles each by Laurie Jacobsmeier and Pam Jackson helped them to a 12-9 win over the Severin Realty Orioles. In that game, Susan Freeman and Monica Way also hit doubles for the winners.

In the Gremlins' second game, also with the Orioles, they bombarded losing pitchers for 17 runs, while the Orioles could muster but five tallies.

The Migets won a big game over the Lions Club Lionettes, 13-3, on the strength of pitcher Debbie Sullivan, who tossed a two-hitter. Paula Patterson was the big gun for the Migets, blasting a bases-loaded double.

In the other contest for the Migets, 17 runs spelled disaster for the Severin Realty Orioles. The Orioles could score only seven times in the game.

Pop Warner Registration Set Saturday

Registration has been scheduled for Saturday at several locations for youngsters ages 8-13 who wish to play Pop Warner Football.

All little league fields in the area will have registration forms available, as will the Village Liquor and Golf Shop, 7779 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Registration fees are $20 per athlete, or $30 per family when two or more youngsters from the same family register.

Registration fees include a complete regulation uniform — helmet, pants, shoulder pads, and hip pads.

All youngsters must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and an official birth certificate.

Dale Siscon Is The Little All-American

The words "All-American" and "Athlete of the Year" bring to mind the super-giants of sports — the seven foot basketball players and the 250 to 300 pound football players.

But at 5'5" and 110 pounds, Dale Siscon, who graduated last week from Mount Miguel High School, is a good example that the little man is still a prominent part of the sports world.

Siscon, of Spring Valley, owns two CIF championships for his tremendous wrestling skills, and owns "All-American" and "Athlete of the Year" titles. Last year he was undefeated in wrestling county-wide.

Siscon will enter UCLA in the fall.

'Peanuts' Makes Jump To Stage At Off Broadway

By John Nicholson

The Peanuts gang created by Charles Schultz has stepped out of the newspapers and onto the stage of the Off Broadway Theatre.

"You're A Good Man Charlie Brown" stars Jim Ricketts in the title role, Ruby Dake as the loud mouthed Lucy, Hal-James Pederson as Schroeder, David Holmes as Linus, and Robert Towers as the delightful Snoopy.

The two outstanding characters in the play were Lucy, who's harrassment of Charlie Brown and advances toward an indifferent Schroeder were enough to bring a chuckle from Scrooge himself, and Snoopy with his battles with the Red Baron and escapades atop his doghouse.

Blending Charlie Brown's sincerity and insecurity along with the supporting role of the intellectual Linus and his blanket, Schultz' creation was re-created as precisely as possible with live actors.

The most difficult problem to overcome in transferring a cartoon strip to the stage was where the production was most successful.

Making an audience believe that the actors on stage were actually Charlie Brown and his gang was a tremendous problem, especially in the case of Snoopy, but the members of the cast came through, convincing the audience within minutes after curtain time.

"You're A Good Man Charlie Brown" is a unique theatrical experience and one of the most refreshing productions available to local audiences of all ages in quite some time.

JADE JEWELS — In photo are the finished products of Leonard Ritenour's trips to the northern portion of the state. Ritenour has located a cove there, where he dives for large jade rocks. The rocks are cut and polished at Ned's Rock Corner.

Ritenour Makes Trips For Jade

Scuba diving pays dividends.

Leonard Ritenour, of 7920 Broadway, a veteran of 8 years diving experience, has located a treasure trove of jade in the ocean in the Monterey area.

He retrieved approximately 150 pounds of jade during the Memorial Day week-end at the famed Jade Cove not far from the Big Sur.

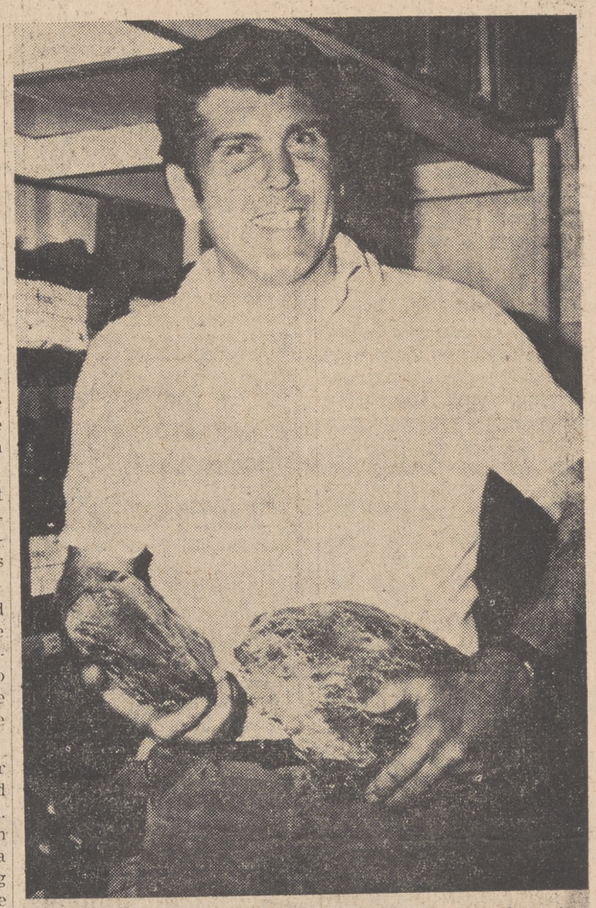
He has brought home about 700 pounds of it in three previous trips — including a 200-pound jade boulder which "is too pretty to cut up."

He takes the boulders to Ed Roberts, a Lemon Grove stone cutter-polisher, where Roberts reduces the rocks to eighth-inch slabs. The choice parts are removed from the slabs and polished.

The 150 pounds Ritenour just brought back will yield about $300 in stones, he said. The 200 pound boulder can not be cut up until he finds a cutter with a machine big enough to handle the huge stone.

Ritenour scuba dives every week. He dove for abalones commercially until he became a partner in Russell's Plumbing last year.

Ritenour's jade will be on display in Ned's Rock Corner which is operated by Ed Roberts at 7630 Broadway.



BOULDERS — Ritenour displays two of the large jade rocks he brought up from the ocean floor when he dove in the cove over the Memorial Day weekend. His last trip netted 150 pounds of jade, he said.

Del Mar Fair Opening Scheduled For Today

A golden cornucopia of Southern California living — famed Hollywood entertainers, blooms from the flower capitol of the world, proud show horses, notable accomplishments in art, photography and gourmet cooking, prize-winning livestock and agricultural produce — will greet visitors to the 81st Southern California Exposition opening a 12-day run today.

New to the fair will be the grandstand entertainment lineup: soul singer Lou Rawls the first six nights, Ken Curtis (Gunsmoke's "Festus") the last six; the Wenatchee Youth Circus through June 29, a national championship rodeo from June 30-July 5, both in the afternoons.

As "mod" as Rawls will be the expanded flower show's over-20 fountains and pools dedicated to an ecological theme, the national horse show's accent on jumpers, art show winners in the new rage of macrame, the use of synthetic fibers in sewing and a display of the Air Force Transtage spacecraft.

There are man reassuring signs of the familiar and traditional, too. Youngsters from 4-H and Future Farmers of America clubs will show the lambs, swine, goats, and cattle they have raised on farms and will participate in the Junior Auction June 29; Bob Baker's Marionettes will be back for the 13th year; Grandfather's Farm will operate again; gorgeous melons, avocados and citrus fruits will grace the booths decorated by cities and counties; and such colorful trappings as brass bands, antique cars, clowns organ grinder with monkey and a stiltman will be in evidence.

In addition to the always-expanding displays of hobbies, gems and minerals, bottles, tropical fish, coins and stamps, dairy products and youth projects, the Expo will offer twice as many shows this year on the Don Diego, Community and Dance Pavilion stages.

Other entertainments include strolling mariachis, the antique car show and the Stardusters Sway Pole act at 2 and 6 p.m. daily.

Drug Addict Test Planned

Before the judge was Gary Dale Engelstad, 19, of 7414 Tracy st., Lemon Grove, who had pleaded guilty on June 3 to buying a revolver stolen from Kenneth Warner, of El Cajon.

Warner reported to El Cajon police on Feb. 14 of the burglary of his residence, with more than $800 in property stolen, including a .22 calibre revolver. He said a young woman he had met a few nights earlier in a Spring Valley tavern had come to his home and had made some telephone calls.

The same girl was accidentally shot on Feb. 20, and investigation showed that Engelstad owned the gun used. Sheriff's deputies went to the Tracy street address and found both the defendant and the wounded girl there.

Both were arrested, when the weapon was found to be one stolen from Warner's El Cajon home. Engelstad said he bought it, but admitted that he believed it was stolen. His use of drugs was turned up in the investigation of the probation department. He said he had used them, but had given up. The probation department asked Judge Gallagher to suspend criminal proceedings until the proper studies of possible addiction could be made, and the judge agreed.

All of the defendants have been arraigned in federal magistrate's court, but no trial date has been set for any of them. They have been released on bail ranging from $1,000 to $7,000.

Henry Boney noted later that there was a growing militancy among welfare workers who support a bipartisan reform in the welfare system.

The ten or so welfare employees left the meeting satisfied that their story had been heard by some of the top news executives in the area.

Maybe now there will come a hue and cry for getting welfare back to the place where it belongs and to stop providing a way of life for those improvident enough to require it instead of as a helping hand for those unfortunate enough to need it.

Or as Mrs. Williams said early in the meeting "—the art of helping people help themselves."

County Budget Hearing Delayed 'til July 8

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county's Five Budgeteers, the Board of Supervisors, sheathed their swords on Saturday and will not take up the Battle of the Budget again until July 8.

It will be the first time since 1957 that the county has not adopted a budget by July 1, although prior to that time it was common practice. August 30 is the deadline imposed by state law.

In the meantime, the county will operate on the basis of the preliminary budget, but will not be able to fill any new positions, engage in any capital construction projects, nor buy any equipment.

In the meantime, the staff of Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey will prepare what amounts to a totally new budget for board consideration.

Board members indicated they will need full justification for any new positions in any departments. As it now stands, there would be 630 employees hired during fiscal year 1971-72.

On Saturday, the board accepted cuts in the general fund portion of the budget recommended by Morey of $12.7 million. This brought the total of countywide costs to $287 million and an indicated property tax rate increase of 51.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

This rate is based on an increase in assessed valuation of 12 percent, but board members say they have the feeling the increase will exceed that percentage.
